

Essex Cancer Research Network

The Essex Cancer Research Network operates as part of the NIHR NCRN in England. It is part of the National Institute for Health Research and forms part of the UK Clinical Research Network. The networks support and deliver high quality clinical research studies

AIMS

- Provide patients with an equal chance of participating in high quality cancer research where ever they live in the network
- Maintain & develop the research workforce to support recruitment
- Raising patient awareness

Equity of access

- Maintain a balanced portfolio across the network
- Integrate research into clinical pathways
- Develop cross site and cross network referral pathways and protocols